Reshaping Access & Administration for Your Enterprise.

Align Access with your Business Needs

Lower administration costs with automated repeatable tasks.

Ensure you meet compliance requirements with a new control plane

Dramatically improve SLAs automated governed processes.

A new level of business agility! Readibots control plane allows for major organizational change without operational impact.

Managing identity access for the enterprise is challenging because applications, system, tenants have exploded in numbers over time. Identities, roles and permissions are created and stored everywhere. This makes administering and managing identities according to set policies difficult, time-consuming, and manual even for advanced IT operations. In addition, governance and compliance demands are increasing and becoming more complex.

Readibots Access Studio was developed to bring organization to the chaos and provide you a view of how want to administer your organization defined by you. This abstracted view or control plane allows you to create views of your extensive ecosystem across organizational lines, divisions, countries to name a few. Policies are created to ensure the same rules are applied in every situation for continuous and consistent actions enforcing data governance.

The Readibots approach is revolutionary because we put the control in your hands automating your current administration processes without re-engineering them, integrating applications with no incremental cost and automating fulfillment. Automating these processes helps you improve operational efficiency for Identity and IT Operations teams, reduce potential threats with immediate fulfillment and improve the experience for employees.

Access Studio Provides a New Control Plane that Eliminates Ecosystem Barriers to Administration

Readibots Access Studio provides end-to-end visibility for identities and their corresponding entitlements. Every change made to an identity's access through their lifecycle is auditable. Not only does Readibots bring simplicity and automation to identity administration, but it also provides exceptional affordability without compromising functionality. The READI Platform automates your existing workflows using the PowerShell skillsets your team currently possesses.

1 Virtualize Your Ecosystem

- Combine multiple divisions and business units into one or more virtual administrative units

2 Connect Your Data

- Access data from any system/applicationPerform data clean-up as data is being ingested

- Combine and consolidate data from multiple sources for use in workflows and policies

3 Automate Your Tasks

- Easily automate internal edge cases without changing your business process

- Create policies and rules using the cleansed and combined data for better decision making

- Confidential sensitive processes such as terminations and investigations are automated and integrated into your existing process and remain confidential

4 Delegate With Guardrails

- Enable your teams to manage their own resources such as updating personal information, changing groups, and modifying reporting structure all without exposing sensitive information

- Workflows and policies are enforced automatically during the process

- Communicate confirmation of access to management and employees
